Learning Outcomes

On successful completion of this module, a student will be able to:

1. Oral Production
2. The learner is expected to be able to:
3. enter unprepared into and maintain conversation on familiar topics, express personal opinions and greetings and exchange information on topics that are familiar, of personal interest or pertinent to everyday life e.g. family, hobbies, work, travel and current events;
4. give a prepared presentation on a familiar topic within his / her field which is clear enough to be followed without difficulty most of the time and in which the main points are explained with reasonable precision;
5. make his / her opinions and reactions understood as regards solutions to problems or practical questions of where to go, what to do, how to organise an event (e.g. an outing).
6. Written Production
7. The learner is expected to be able to:
8. write accounts of experiences, describing feelings and reactions in connected text;
9. write very brief reports to a standard conventionalised format which pass on routine factual information and state reasons for actions.
10. Aural Reception (listening)
11. The learner is expected to be able to:
12. follow much of what is said around him / her on general topics provided interlocutors avoid very idiomatic usage and articulate clearly;
13. follow a talk within his / her own field provided the subject matter is familiar and the presentation straightforward and clearly structured.
14. Visual Reception (reading)
15. The learner is expected to be able to:
16. identify the main themes in clearly signalled argumentative texts;
17. deduce the meaning of occasional unknown words from the context and grasp sentence meaning provided the topic discussed is familiar.

Learning and Teaching Methods

- Interactive seminars will be the main teaching approach. A variety of media will be used in the teaching process (traditional print materials, audio and video material, CALL programmes and online language learning resources). The course will be characterised by a high level of student participation in both classroom activities and self-directed learning activities outside the classroom.
